

“ Nobody cares anymore. Medicine’s governed by accountants, insurance thugs and MBA hospital administrators and their best friends are lawyers, politicians and government toadies. Doctors have given up, they no longer care” rages a frustrated physician who has reached the end of his rope. The Merger is a timely medical drama written by a well credentialed cardiologist who entertained me as he frightened me as I moved forward page by page into areas of medicine that have been in the dark for too long. I knew it was fiction... at least I hoped it was.

Harris Cohen
Author of Rat Tales
Wynnewood, PA